Materials for the Boatwright Memorial Library #BlackLivesMatter display were sourced from the following syllabi and readings lists:

- #BlackLivesMatter Syllabus by Abigail Neely, Dartmouth University
- Black Lives Matter: Race, Resistance, and Populist Protest by Frank Leon Roberts, New York University
- We Gon’ Be Alright: The Black Lives Matter Movement by Frank Leon Roberts, New York University
- The Complete Summer Reading Syllabus on Black Lives Matter by Selina Cheng, Quartz
- Black Lives Matter: Perspectives on Blackness, State Violence, and Resistance by Melissa Harris-Perry and Jaira J. Harrington, Wake Forest University
- #FergusonSyllabus by Marcia Chatelain, Dissent Magazine
→ Black Lives (Don’t) Matter, The C.O.U.P. (Coalition of Underrecognized Peoples)
→ How to Teach Kids About What’s Happening in Ferguson by Marcia Chatelain, The Atlantic
→ Black Lives Matter: A Reading List, Left Bank Books
→ The Black Lives Matter Film Syllabus by Antwaun Sargent, Tribeca Film
→ #BlackLivesMatter: A Bibliography for the Revolution by BlackLivesMatter Nashville
→ Ferguson Syllabus, Sociologists for Justice
→ The Black Movement Syllabus organized by Antwann Michael

The quote from Alicia Garza on the exhibit promotional postcard comes from: A Herstory of the #BlackLivesMatter Movement by Alicia Garza